

Being at Home

One of the great feelings is that of being at home. Truly being at home is not just about being in a place but it is about being at peace, feeling safe, loved and connected. When we are at home we can put on our house clothes and relax. We can create these safe places for each other in our families and in our relationships including those within our school community. We can extend the hand of welcome and say you are safe and belong. Being at home is about getting in and sharing each other's joys and challenges, walking the journey together. It is a place filled with light where people can flourish.

God calls us to be at home with Him. To be in a relationship through prayer and through reading the Bible. Every moment in every day we can come home to God in our house clothes. Our response to God's welcome is to then extend the hand of welcome and graciously draw others into safe places.

Principal's Log

Reflecting on approaches to learning is a key part of making the most of assessment feedback. In particular, when receiving assessment results, the question needs to change from what did you get, to what did you learn? Assessment has the two fold purpose of letting people know where they are at in terms of their progress and, more importantly, identifying areas for continued growth. As we receive assessment results, it is important that we reflect on our approach to learning. For Middle and Senior College students, this includes reflection around use of time in class and at home, and attitudes to learning including preparedness to seek extra help, persistence and willingness to push ourselves to the next level of understanding. A key part of this is owning the learning. The important focus is on 'what could I have done differently and what do I now need to do to improve my learning?'

Both the 1st XV and U15 rugby teams completed their seasons last night with close fought semi-final matches in challenging conditions. It was a pleasure to watch the U15 team play well and be very competitive against a side that had previously beaten them by a large margin. Reports are that the 1st XV also played determinedly right to the finish. Well done to the boys from both teams and thank you to coaches Mr Darren Hooper and Mr Parrish MacLeod for the considerable time and passion they have given in support of the boys. As a first season in the premier division, all can be proud of their achievements. Thank you to our parents and students for your support.

Year 12s completed a full QCS practice this week. The marking of these practice tests provides important feedback for students and staff. Thank you to Ms Sue Arahill, Mrs Rae Hall and Miss Rebecca Ross for the considerable time they put into the marking of these papers.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the Year 10 students and staff who are away from their homes on their extended outdoor education experience. May God support us to provide safe and welcoming "homes" within our families and communities.

I LIKE My Family

Many of the students in the Middle and Senior College communities have seen the background image of “Pastor Smith’s laptop” whenever I have shown a PowerPoint presentation and the background has appeared on the screen.

My screen background image is a picture of my wife Heidi beside my three adult children. The most observant of the students notice that there is a little graphic of a hand pasted onto the bottom of the image, just in front of all family members. Those students who are into online discussions, immediately recognise the little hand as the “LIKE” graphic from Facebook. It is the image that you “click on” to show that you like what you see on someone’s Facebook page.

Sometimes students ask, “Pastor Smith why is the Facebook hand on your screen?” I answer the same way every time, “I like my family”.

From the dawn of creation, the Lord God has set us into families. In the Genesis Chapter 2 story of Adam and Eve, we find Adam was created from the Earth, then the Lord God declares, “It is not good for the man to be alone.” So God makes a partnership between the man and woman with the creation of Eve. It is a wonderful sign of God’s grace and love that it is God who sees our need for loving relationships and sets us into families. Adam did not cry out for a partner, but rather, the Lord God saw this need and took the first step.

Since this is God’s design and God’s business, we go to God for help with our families. We ask God to help us grow closer together in love. We ask God to help us forgive as we have been forgiven. We ask God to be present in hard times and also to lift our families into times of joy and celebration. God’s word is full of good advice for family life.

God bless your families.

Pastor Paul Smith

From the Director of Students

Recently I heard author Maggie Hamilton speak about her current research on the corporate take-over of childhood. She is concerned about the overwhelming pressure on our boys and girls to think, act, dress, consume and interpret the world in certain ways. Ways that, according to Maggie Hamilton, are diminishing and dehumanising. The constant targeted campaigns at our tweens and teenagers leaves numbers of boys and girls anxious and confused.

At Pacific across the curriculum and particularly in Personal Development classes we aim to grow confidence in young people. To make them aware of how they are being targeted for company profit and to develop in them confidence in who they are. We encourage students to become involved in service for others and to care for their community. This develops a positive approach to life where students value their contributions to others rather than seeing themselves as mass consumers of brands.

We focus in Christian Studies on what makes us human and how we need to connect and engage with each other. That true human happiness has nothing to do with buying the latest material goods. Across subjects like English and SOSE corporate advertising is analysed in a sophisticated way. We encourage young people to rediscover their natural creativity and to grow up strong and empowered.

The central marketing message from the corporations that life is about winning and having certain products will make you a winner is challenged every day in every class at Pacific. We also recognise and support the key role played by parents in growing their children with positive values into resilient young adults. In a community partnership the negative influence that writers like Maggie Hamilton are so concerned about can be overcome.

Mr Brendan Delaney, Director of Students

From the Head of Staff and Students P-5

Thank you to those parents who joined with their children to walk to school last Friday. It was a great way to start the day and share some time together with children and friends. Walk to school Fridays will continue next term, dates to be advised.

Last week, Parent Class Representatives (Kindy - Year 6) gathered to share morning tea and discuss the fast approaching Ocean Festival. On behalf of the school community, I would like to thank these parents for their efforts in ensuring the Festival is a success. I would also like to thank (K-6) families for their generous donations to class baskets which have been steadily filling over the term. The contents of these baskets help greatly in providing items for the cent auction at the festival. The baskets will be collected next week, so if you intend making a donation only a few days remain to do so.

Emotional Resilience

This week I would like to share the final installment suggesting some strategies from the You Can Do It program which may help eliminate or help to balance the negative mindsets that detract from children developing emotional resilience.

To Eliminate “Being Intolerant of Others”

There are several points that you will want to communicate to help a child who has a tendency to blame, condemn and put down who he/she perceives as having done the wrong thing or who are different.

The first point to be made is that all people from time to time will act unfairly and inconsiderately to others, including friends and family. It is human nature.

A second point to be reinforced is that while it is undesirable for people to behave this way, it is important not to view the person who is doing the wrong thing as totally bad. When we view people who do the wrong thing as totally hopeless, we tend to get overly angry with them. This is especially the case if we believe that people who do the wrong thing deserve retaliation and “payback”.

A third and related point is that in life we will meet people who are different from us (come from different cultures) and share different beliefs, values and customs. In order for us to live in a safe and secure world without violence, it is important that when we notice people who seem different from us and who may demonstrate values, ways of relating and even dress that we do not like, that we do not judge their overall value as people (eg. “They’re hopeless, inferior”) on the basis of aspects of their behaviour or appearance we do not like or are unfamiliar with.

Other suggestions for eliminating a young person’s negative type of thinking called “Intolerance of Others” include the following:

- Help your child draw up a list of positive characteristics of a person or group of people whom the child appears to condemn. Once the list is drawn up (you may have to assist the child to come up with positive characteristics), ask the child whether it makes sense to think that someone is totally bad if he/she behaves poorly. The point that should be made is that people have bad points and good points, and that while it is understandable when one dislikes their behaviour, it never makes sense to rate their overall character or worth as a person on just their bad points.

- Provide your child with first-hand experiences to learn about the positive qualities of an individual or group whom the child tends to hold a grudge against.
- Be on the lookout for those times when your child is condemning of another person who might be acting in a way that the child perceives as mean, disrespectful or unfair. Remind your child that it is OK to dislike the behaviour but that he/she should not think of the person as totally bad.
- Model for your child out loud the difference between holding an “Intolerance of Others” and “Tolerance of Others” way of thinking in the face of adversity. For example, you could say, “You know, the other day the grocers overcharged me for what I bought. So, I started to get extremely angry with him by thinking ‘He shouldn’t act so unfairly. He’s a total jerk’. When I realised I was losing my temper, I changed my way of thinking to: ‘He did the wrong thing. He made a mistake. Humans make mistakes. I’ll bring the mistake to his attention’. I then calmed down”.
- Constantly encourage your child not to make overall judgements of people who do the wrong thing or who are different. Explain that when we are intolerant and make overall judgements, we only lose our temper.

Mr David Druery, Head of Staff and Students P-5

Electronic Reports

This semester, Prep - Year 2 students will now receive electronic report cards in line with Years 3 - 12, using the TASS system.

A text message will be sent to Prep - Year 12 families when reports are available in the Parent Lounge which can be accessed via the college website.

Instructions can be found in the parent information book and are included in this issue of Compass.

If you have any trouble accessing the reports online or would like to be provided with a hard copy of the report, please contact Miss Carolyn Sainty on 5436 7363 or csainty@paciluth.qld.edu.au by Monday, 8th July 2013.

Food for Thought

Generosity

We all want our children to be generous. In the eagerness to get kids off to a good start in life, a spirit of generosity is one quality that parents can easily overlook. Developing independence and personal competencies tend to be higher on most parents' wish list for their kids.

Mrs Annie Williams, School Counsellor

Project Wunya is a GO!

It is with great excitement that Year 3P shares this news.

INSPIRATION PAINTS on Nicklin Way, Currimundi have agreed to donate ALL our required supplies to enable us to paint our classroom.

About two weeks ago, the children wrote persuasive letters asking for agreed upon items. The children peer assessed the letters and six were chosen and sent to various local organisations. We were thrilled to receive a response from the Manager of Inspiration Paints, offering their support.

The children worked in groups to measure and collate data for the correct amount of paint as a maths component of this project and yesterday Mr Steve Maxwell came to access our space and was reassured that our measurements were accurate.

We will receive our supplies next Tuesday, and some wonderful parent helpers, along with Mrs Pollard and her family, will spend a few days in the holidays, transforming our space.

We still have to procure some blackboard paint if any kind readers would be interested in donating this item. Below is a copy of the letter sent by Sophie Dahl to Inspiration Paints.

Hi, My name is Sophie and I am writing on behalf of my class. My class and I are in Year 3. We have just realised that our walls are getting a little dirty and are in need of a paint.

My first reason for asking you to donate some things to us, is because we are a part of your community. We are local like you and that is good.

Secondly, we are kids and kids need help. But kids also 'shape the future of the community'. That's what adults say.

My last reason is because of our education. We are not only doing this for fun, we are doing this for things like Maths and learning to measure. Art for the painting and this also involves the aborigines because our project is called 'Wunya', which means 'Welcome'.

We really look forward to hearing back from you.

Yours Sincerely

Sophie D

PS. We have attached a list of things that you might be able to donate.

PPS. We could tell your customers, how kind you were to help us.

PPPS. I hope you like this letter.

Friends of Pacific

The next Friends of Pacific meeting is next Tuesday, 18th June at 7.00pm in the library.

One of the agenda items to be discussed is the Friends of Pacific business plan, mission and aims. This is the start of planning of short, medium and long term goals. If you would like some input, please come along to the meeting or email your thoughts to fop@paccluth.qld.edu.au.

Also the Woolworths Earn and Learn Program is now finished so please bring in any reward stickers and deposit them in the box in the office. Thank you.

Mrs Tracey Hindmarsh, Chairperson Friends of Pacific

A big thank you to all the parent reps who attended the OCEANfest planning meeting and morning tea last week. Things are really moving along now and we have some fantastic prizes and sponsors on board!

If you are interested in helping out in any way, please come along to the Library from 8.30am - 11.00am on the following dates:

Tuesday, 9th July
Tuesday, 16th July
Tuesday, 23rd July
Tuesday, 30th July
Tuesday, 6th August
Tuesday, 13th August

Maths Moment

Puzzle of the Week

Well done to the following students for solving last week's puzzle:

Year 10: Mitchell Jones and Josh Sarvari.

Year 4: Storm Sawyer, Georgie Jones, Courtney Page, Elijah Modlin, Sebastian Sorrell and Matthew Campbell.

Year 3: Ella Hansen

The solution to last week's puzzle was the message: "I am brilliant at maths".

Maths Tutoring

There will be no more tutoring until the beginning of Term 3. Well done to everyone who made good use of this opportunity to enhance their mathematical skills.

Maths Competitions

There are two competitions next term, the Australian Maths and the ICAS Maths. All students from Years 3 to 10 as well as Year 11/12 Maths B students participate in the ICAS Maths competition. The date for the ICAS Maths will be during their Maths lesson prior to Tuesday, 13th August. A selection of students from Years 3 to 12 will be nominated to participate in the Australian Maths Competition. The date for this one is Thursday, 1st August. Practice booklets will be available from Week 10 of this term.

If you have any queries about any of the above, please contact me at the college or email jsteven@paccluth.qld.edu.au.

Pacific Soccer Update

State Titles - 8th June

The 2013 State Titles were held last weekend at Stockland Park, with games scheduled for Saturday and Monday. Unfortunately the rain arrived late on Saturday and by Monday all fields were unplayable, and therefore the remaining games were cancelled.

We will provide a more detailed update regarding the State Titles in the newsletter next week.

Winter Pie-Drive Fundraiser

With the cooler months approaching, we are preparing again for our Homestyle Bake Pie Drive. This is an annual fundraiser for the club, with a percentage of the sales returning through the club to our teams.

A summary of the many sweet and savoury options which are available will be emailed to each Pacific soccer family next week, to allow time for taste buds to be tempted, and for preferences to be decided. However, the important dates to remember are:

- Order forms will be handed on each teams training day from 10th - 12th July.
- Orders and payment to be returned to team manager by Friday, 19th July.
- Orders to be collected from the Soccer canteen on Tuesday 30th July from 2.45 - 3.30pm.

Round 11 - 15th June

Round 11 this weekend sees all 16 Pacific Soccer teams playing at home. The games commence at 8.30am, and U16/17 Pacific Jets will play the last game against the Nambour Sandcats, kicking off at 3.30 pm. Each manager will have game times, or visit www.SCCSA.org.au or call us for more info.

Canteen Volunteers

The 2013 season is now half finished, with just eight rounds of regular fixtures remaining. We will be hosting four more home games between 15th June and 17th August, and a carnival on 24th August.

Please remember that the Pacific Soccer canteen cannot operate without the support of our families. At each home game, teams will be nominated for a roster and will be asked to operate the canteen for a few hours during the day.

When your team manager asks for volunteers to fill a canteen roster, please remember that a few hours spent on a canteen shift is a relatively small amount of time, but your contribution will be greatly appreciated by the club, by the other volunteers, and of course by our players, who will all benefit from your support.

After a shift, each volunteer will be entered in a prize draw (two prizes valued at $100), which will be drawn at the end of the season. The more times you help out on the canteen, the more chances you will have to win but, more importantly, the operation of the canteen will become more efficient and less of a burden on just a few supporters.

Substitute Canteen Convenors for 15th and 22nd June

Our hard working canteen convenor, Mark Christensen, will be away for the next two rounds.

A big thank you must go to Sharon Turner (U13 Seahorses), who has offered to assist with the canteen administration for the next home game on 15th June. Also, Kath Barry and Louise Currey (U8 Taipans) will be taking over the canteen administration for the following home game on 22nd June. We would like to extend our sincere thanks to Sharon, Kath and Louise who have generously offered their time to help with the canteen admin while Mark is away, which is greatly appreciated.

Baking for Home Games - 15th and 22nd June

With home games coming up on 15th and 22nd June, the canteen would appreciate the assistance of anyone who would be able to do some baking, and perhaps prepare some muffins, biscuits, small cakes or treats.

Baking is especially popular with our spectators and players, who enjoy the home-made delicacies, not only because of their freshness, but more importantly because of the extra care which has gone into their making. Please contact us if you are able to assist, or if you have any queries.

Recycle Old Mobiles and Help a Worthy Cause

The program to collect and recycle old mobile phones has been extended. The collection box will remain at Main Admin during July-August. Please support this program to raise money for research into childhood cancer and help our environment. Remember to remove the SIM card and delete personal information.
