

Celebrating Our Teachers

World Teacher's Day was inaugurated by UNESCO on 5th October and is celebrated this Friday, 25th October in 2013. Teachers play a pivotal role with parents in supporting young people to grow richly. In doing so, teachers and parents help to shape the generations of the present and the future. Recently we were invited to quietly reflect on those things we were thankful for in our lives. What came very quickly to my mind was to be very thankful for the great staff we have at Pacific. Teachers and support staff work together with a wonderful generosity of spirit to provide a rich stimulating environment for young people to grow in. There is a dynamic energy where staff are prepared to engage in continual learning to provide the best possible learning for young people.

We thank God for the rich blessings He gives this community through its staff and pray that He would continue to bless and enrich them and give them joy in their service. It is a good time for us, as a community, to individually thank our teachers. Not only those current but perhaps some of those we had in our distant pasts who made a difference in our lives.

Principal's Log

Senior students enjoyed their weekend away as part of the Melbourne Arts Trip last weekend. Having the opportunity to immerse deeply into the arts culture in Melbourne with other like-minded people is a truly life enriching experience for all concerned. We appreciate the organisation completed by Miss Anita Morton and the time given by her, Mr Duncan McNee and Mrs Janine Delaney in leading such an inspiring experience over last weekend.

This Friday we look forward to celebrating our special relationship with our grandparents. Grandparents play an important role in young people's lives and it is a delight to have the opportunity to share a morning of learning at the college with them. We thank Mr David Druery, Mrs Sue Zweck, Pastor Paul Smith and Mr David Simpfendorfer for the organisation of the day.

In the evening, we will have the opportunity to visit the Art Exhibition from 6.00pm - 9.00pm. I would encourage all families to visit the exhibition for some period of time to be surprised, challenged and inspired by the artistic talents of our young people from Kindergarten to Year 12.

On Sunday, our Kayaking team will be defending their State Title at Lake Kawana. The team have been training hard with Mr Gary Graves. Strong support has also been given by Mrs Rae Hall and parents. We wish the team all the best and suggest that members of the community might like to show their support at some time between 8.00am and 3.00pm at Lake Kawana this Sunday.

We pause to give thanks to God for the teachers we have had in our lives, for their service, goodwill and the difference they have made. We pray that God will hold them in His care and bless them richly.

Grand Finals are Over - Christmas is Underway

Have you noticed the Christmas decorations and cards appearing in your favourite supermarket? Each year when the footy finals are over, our whole nation gets into Christmas mode.

Pacific gets into Christmas mode too, but in a very special way. Each year, we take up a school-wide fund-raising program for the Australian Lutheran World Service Christmas appeal: <http://www.alws.org.au/>

Each class and PCG, as well as families and staff, are invited to take part in this Christmas appeal. As usual, we are making a special focus on Cambodia, so what will your money do for the people there?

$65 will pay for a "long drop loo" to help with hygiene and sanitation.

$13 will pay for a water filter.

$33 will pay for a farm kit.

$165 will pay for an open well.

$40 will pay for chickens.

$3178 will pay for a hand tractor.

$13 will pay for farm seeds.

Please go to the website and consider what you could do to be part of this annual Pacific appeal. Australian Lutheran World Service is an internationally-respected organisation that works hard to ensure that money that is donated goes to where it is intended. Visit their site: <http://www.alws.org.au/>

The motivation behind this appeal is the reason for the season. Jesus is God's gift to the world. In the name of Jesus, we give to others as we have been given to; graciously without expecting anything in return.

And a merry Christmas preparation season to you.

Pastor Paul Smith

From the Head of Senior School Students

Year 12

Year 12 students are into their final school term. Correspondence has been sent regarding the alternate days, graduation, formal, parent dinner, student behaviour, timelines and photography for the formal. Please read this correspondence and, if there are any concerns or questions, please feel free to contact me. Thank you to parents and families for your continued support of the Year 12 students.

At this point in time, Year 12 students should be well underway in working through final weeks of academic assessment. Over the coming weeks, it is imperative that Year 12 students maintain focus and prioritise their time to complete ongoing academic assessment and revising for examinations. I wish the senior students all the best as they continue to work through assignments and prepare for examinations.

Senior Jersey Order Form

Year 11 students will receive a letter next week regarding the senior jersey for 2014. Orders and payment are due for this by Friday, 8th November 2013. Please read this letter and, if there are any concerns or questions, please feel free to contact me.

College Student Leadership Team: 'Inspiring Women in Leadership Forum'

On Thursday, 17th October 2013 the College and College-Vice Female Captains and I participated in a forum on 'Inspiring Women in Leadership'.

The Royal Australian Defence Force hosted the 'Aspiring Women's Leadership' breakfast on 17th October at the Maroochydore RSL. It was a great opportunity for the female college student leadership team to hear firsthand from female guest speakers from the business community and military (re sharing their journeys, successes and barriers they face in their respective careers). The event was set as a High Tea, with team building and leadership activities throughout the morning. We extend our thanks to the Royal Australian Defence Force for such a positive and engaging experience, particularly to Sgt Adam Need who chaired and extended the invitation for this function to the college.

From the Head of Staff and Students P-5

Educational research conclusively recognises that schools need to appreciate that unless they place the social and emotions development of all students on the same radar screen as academic development, that many students may not learn to the fullest of their potential. "Non-cognitive aspects of student's development, including their attitudes, values and a range of social and emotional capabilities, strongly influence their achievement, happiness and relationships." (Providing all Children with Foundations, page xi, M.E Bernard 2007). At Pacific, all Prep to Year 5 students complete the You Can Do It program. This term, the focus of the program will be on developing confidence.

Confidence means not being afraid to make mistakes, standing up tall and speaking with a loud voice. Confident people, even in the face of adversity, do not look upon themselves as failures. Examples of confident behavior include:

- Raising hands to answer / ask questions in class.
- Accepting oneself, not thinking badly about yourself when you make a mistake.
- Being independent.
- Saying "I can do something", not "I can't".

Parents can support and develop confidence in their children by always encouraging effort and independence. Allow children to walk from the car to their classrooms unattended and let children carry their own bags (often I see parents loaded up with bags whilst their children happily skip ahead). Fundamental in developing confidence in children is communication. Explain to your children that everyone has the choice to be an optimist (predicts success) or a pessimist (predicts failure) and it is how we think that dictates how we act. When a child acts confidently give praise.

Year 3 Camp

All Year 3 students will depart for their Outdoor Education Camp at Luther Heights at Coolool on Thursday, 31st October. Year 3 parents are reminded that all camp / medical forms need to be returned to your child's classroom teacher.

Mr David Druery, Head of Staff and Students P-5

Food for Thought

And Suddenly It's Upon Your Child - Adolescence

The most common mistake made by parents is the changing of their parenting style in reaction to their pre-teens new and troubling method of relating. Parents who yearn for the copasetic relationship of prior years' often attempt to develop a "friendship" with their child. Unfortunately, the attempt at friendship instead of parenting generally results in a mutiny in which the child takes over as the family's executive and the parent loses control. Conversely, being overbearing and not respecting your child's attempt at individuation will foster a negative emotionally charged relationship that have been linked to a host of mental health problems.

Year 5 Camp

On Wednesday, 9th October 2013 all the Year 5 students departed from Pacific at 9.00am. It was a long hot bus trip, with a little bus sickness thrown in, but after two hours we finally got there. We were all excited as we disembarked from our bus at Camp Somerset.

We waited patiently and nervously to see who we were with for our cabin groups. There were thrills of excitement when we found out who we were with. The cabins were so luxurious and the views from the balconies were amazing.

After a delicious lunch we were split into our four activity groups. The activities included archery, bush cooking, raft building, canoeing and low ropes.

Archery was hard but a lot of fun. A number of people did not hit the target, however many achieved the impossible, a bulls-eye. It was exciting and one of the most popular activities at the camp.

Bush cooking was not only fun, but it also helped our knowledge of how to survive in the rugged Australian bush.

We were shown how to make a fire without matches and how to cook potatoes. We even got to make and cook our own damper.

Raft building was very challenging as we only had limited materials to make the raft to hold eight people. It was interesting to see whose raft stayed afloat and whose fell apart. This activity brought out the best of leadership and teamwork in the groups. We also had a lot of fun trying to fill a large drum with buckets of water. Sounds easy! Well the drum was full of holes which we had to try and plug with our body parts. Great team work again and lots of soggy children.

Canoeing was surprisingly simple and the games were fantastic. It was hilarious trying to fit all 16 of us into the one canoe. We managed to do it. The only downer was the huge hill we had to walk up to get back to our destination point which was the dining hall for food.

Low ropes were a walk in the park. It was quite simple and maybe not challenging enough for many of the Year 5's. We had spotters which we relied upon in case we fell, so the theme of teamwork was evident again.

Both afternoons we had free time to swim in the camp pool. The pool was huge with lots of room for us to enjoy at the same time. At night we reflected on our days' activities and wrote about our experiences in our personal diaries. We also relaxed before bed time by watching a movie. The food on camp was sensational and there was plenty of it.

Camp Somerset was a great experience for everyone and was a highlight of our last year in Junior College. We will never forget.

Lastly, a huge thank you to the Dr McMahon, Bronte, Mrs Empson, Mrs Atkinson, Mr Crompton and all the camp staff for providing such a wonderful memory.

By Abbey Doran and Brooklyn Graves

Caboolture Historical Village

Last Thursday, Year 3 travelled on the bus to Caboolture Historical Village where we got to experience what life would have been like 100 and more years ago. We were greeted by a stern Headmaster who made us assemble in girl / boy lines and stand to attention. He told us that the cane was used for boys until the late 1980's but that girls receiving the cane were stopped in the early 1910's. This caused quite a stir amongst the students as they were unused to the formal discipline and marching style.

From our school assembly, we broke into groups and were excited to sift for gemstones and watch a blacksmith apply his trade to make brands and household ornaments. We were in awe of the old-fashioned printers and how the fact that the original printer was made in Germany and how this impacted the placement of letters and their inclusion and many other small terminologies that we still use today, such as Upper and Lower case letters.

The highlight for many of the students was the train ride around the perimeter of the grounds and being held up by bushrangers, Captain Starlight and local Gin Gin bushranger known as James McPherson. They stole our gold box but, in return, gave us all a 7-pound note.

The remainder of the day was spent exploring the authentic village and its artifacts and taking photos in preparation for our History project this term. It was a wonderful day and we have many photos outside and inside our classrooms if you would like to view them.

Health Heroes Ambassador

Congratulations to Year 11 student, Brittany Dalglish, who recently completed a term as a volunteer Youth Health Ambassador with the Health Heroes Partnership project.

The Health Heroes Partnership is a collaboration between education and training providers, business and industry, parents and families and community groups to foster a strategic, whole-of-community approach to improved education and transition outcomes in the health industry.

As a Youth Health Ambassador, Brittany was involved with the pre-planning and event day facilitation of Health Heroes, which is an interactive session for high school students designed to introduce them to the vast and varied career opportunities that exist in the health sector.

This was a commitment over a six month period and involved workforce communication, group facilitation, strategy and planning. Brittany helped to facilitate this showcase of health care professionals, education and training providers that was visited by 483 students from 10 different Sunshine Coast high schools.

“As a youth Ambassador, Brittany prepared and gave an honest, heart-warming and clever speech to an audience of school students, teachers and university staff and health professionals. The speech was to inspire other young people to consider the vast array of health jobs available within the health sector.” (Quote from Kylie Grey, Partnership Broker)

Well done Brittany!

Mrs Ainslie Reid, Careers Counsellor

Public Speaking Competition

Last week at assembly, the results for the Public Speaking Competition held at the end of last term were announced. The Academic Pacific Action Group would like to take the opportunity to further congratulate all students involved, who gave up their own time to get behind the event, and also congratulate Wira house for their victory across the middle and senior events.

It was great to see so many teachers and students turn out in support of their friends during the senior presentations held during lunchtime in the Art / Music block courtyard. We would also like to thank the individuals who tried out the new poll voting system, put in place this year by the action group, for their patience. The speeches from all year levels were of a very high standard and proved difficult to judge. They all provided unique and interesting takes on the topics of “The Greatest Gift” and “Giving”.

Winners in each section were:

Year 6 / 7	Stella Teys	Kezia Smith	Georgia Harle
Year 8 / 9	Georgina Snelling	Kate Land	Noah Cotterell / Emily Brewster
Senior	Nina Kerridge	Sam Hodgson	Alex Shingles

The action group would also like to thank the behind-the-scenes work of Mrs Cox for her time in organising the events, and the judges Mr Fitzpatrick, Mrs Darr and Ms Keen for also giving up their own time.

Kade Savage and Natasha Ufer, Academic Group Captains

2013 Melbourne Arts Trip

No matter where someone is going, or how important it is, it should never be necessary to wake up any earlier than 8.00am. But there we were, all 19 of us, chatting with excitement at 6.30am on a Friday morning. That was it, we were going places. And by places, of course, I mean Melbourne.

You can walk all over Melbourne, but you will not have seen anything until you have been to a Chinese Restaurant where you can order bubble tea on an iPad. The beginning to an exhausting trip started with dancing (or something like that) at the Foxtel Hub's A Celebration of Melbourne Ska, and then sleeping peacefully in our rooms at the Claremont Guest House. Being in the city, there is so much to see, so it is incredibly easy to miss the colour that lines the walls of the backstreets. During our Urban Scrawl Walking Tour we were shown the street art and all of the little and big things you would miss if you were in a rush.

The love story and phenomenal special effects of King Kong was seen on Saturday afternoon, and at dinner that night there was still several of us singing Full Moon Lullaby. The shock of A Small Prometheus (contemporary dance) was almost as great as the performance itself!

Sunday brought us to Church at St John's Lutheran Church, Southgate, with a lovely service and special demonstration of the Church's organ. The rest of Sunday included a trip to St Kilda exploring the National Art Gallery and watching two stage plays All That Is Wrong and A Brief Encounter. Sunday finished with a unique band The Polyphonic Spree, which took orchestra to a modern rock stage.

Our final event on Monday was the beautiful ANAM Quartets performing works by Britten and Haydn.

To be truthful, the best part of the trip was the emotion and fun of being a family in a place so full of culture.

Thank you so much to Mr McNee, Mrs Delaney and Miss Morton for organising and looking after us so well on the trip.

Jasmine Turner
