

The God Who Comes To Us

Christmas is a great time to remember the wonderful message that God comes to us. We do not have to work our way to be good enough for God's love. He sends it to us freely. In response, we are called to be free in our love for others. As we approach the business of Christmas, the car parks that are full and long lists of things to be done, may the simple thought of being loved by a gracious God inspire us to be filled with true joy, peace and love that is contagious.

Principal's Log

This year we set ourselves the challenge of living to the theme, Ever Changing, Never Changing. This meant being prepared to change those things that needed to be changed and holding fast to the firm foundations of what is good in our community. As I reflect back on the year, we have embraced this as staff, students and parents and together have lifted the student experience to the next level. This has included the increasing use of technology to personalise learning, intensive development of student's literacy skills through the use of DRA, increasing focus on the development of making thinking visible, higher quality of sporting programs, a strong and vibrant Friends of Pacific group that took on the challenge of staging a highly successful new look Ocean Festival and the maturation of our music program to have high quality ensemble groups including the formation of an orchestra. In the midst of considerable change, we held firm to the strong foundation of knowing that we do all things through a gracious God and the values that flow from this. It has been a very good year. Thank you to all College Council members, staff, students and parents for your outstanding contribution.

As we close the year, we will be farewelling a number of staff. After many years of service, Mrs Margaret Mengel and Mr Mark Sellin will be retiring. We appreciate the significant contribution Mrs Mengel has made to the establishment of the Hospitality Department and her generosity of spirit. Mr Sellin was instrumental in the establishment of the solar car program and implementing a strong culture of design in the Industrial Technology area. Mr Richard Murdoch, Mrs Roxie Fraser, Mr Patrick Beggs and Mr David Simpfendorfer are moving to Brisbane and northern suburbs for family reasons. We congratulate Mr Simpfendorfer on his appointment to Head of Performing Arts at Redeemer Lutheran College and thank him for his outstanding leadership of the music program in the college, including enthusiastic support for the worship program within both the college and the local congregation. Both Mrs Fraser and Mr Murdoch have shown high levels of care and skill for the students they work with and, in particular, those that have required a more individualised approach. We appreciate the support Mr Murdoch gave to the kayaking program. Mr Beggs has made a strong start to his teaching career and we wish him well as he continues this at Prince of Peace Lutheran College. Mrs Sara Anderton will be moving to Charleville to join her husband. We appreciate the contribution of Mrs Anderton who, together with Mrs Zweck, was instrumental in moving our Prep program towards a national standard well before the Australian curriculum was introduced. Mrs Sharon Hooper will be on maternity leave and we wish her and her husband Mr Darren Hooper all the best as they prepare for this very special moment in their lives. We also wish Mrs Kirsty Ridley all the best as she takes 12 months leave and Mrs Natalie Sorbello who will be taking 12 months study leave to complete further studies. We appreciate the wonderful work that Mrs Virginia Schlotterbach, Mrs Cynthia Dodd and Mrs Tanya Graves have done in teaching Japanese and PE classes while Mr Mark Hauser and Mrs Michiko Hauser have been on leave this term.

We will be welcoming Mrs Colleen Devitt from Glasshouse Christian College who has a very strong background in Hospitality including running her own restaurant, Mr William Vale who has a building background and has completed a degree in environmental science to the Industrial Technology team, Mrs Toni Fisher who has provided leadership in middle years Mathematics and Science at Caloundra High School, Mr Joshua Danzey who is passionate about the teaching of Mathematics and Chemistry, Mrs Holly Humphrey, Mr Sam Roach and wife Mrs Jeanette Roach as early childhood specialists and Mrs Tanya Graves and Miss Adriana Schuster as primary teachers. Interviews for the Head of Music are currently being conducted. The strength of Pacific has always been its teachers and we look forward to this group of new staff further enhancing the quality of the program at Pacific.

Construction of Stage 1 of the new Year 3 - 5 block is expected to commence over the holidays. This building will have three classrooms and change rooms, toilets and showers. The design of the building takes in 21st century classroom design with considerable flexibility of space. It is expected to be completed in the middle of next year.

After many months of extensive preparation, the New Zealand Expedition team is looking forward to challenging themselves as they enjoy the beautiful natural environment of New Zealand. We thank Dr Peter McMahon for his leadership and wish Mrs Denise McMahon and students all the best as they undertake this unique experience.

I look forward to celebrating the year's achievements with you and your family at the closing services. Once again, thank you to all staff, students and parents and a particular thank you to our Administration and Leadership team of Mrs Sue Zweck, Mr David Druery, Mrs Rae Hall, Ms Sue Arahill, Miss Kim Stone, Mr Brendan Delaney, Mr Shane Jurecky, Pastor Paul Smith and Mr Mike Healy and my Personal Assistant Mrs Chris Henschke for their leadership and support. It has been a year worthy of great celebration! Enjoy the break. May God's love and peace fill your hearts.

Drawing a Bethlehem Star - It is Simple!

Can you draw stars? I am not that good at it. My attempts often look like a splatter on the kitchen bench.

The angels at Bethlehem gave us directions for drawing the star that the wise men followed to Jesus. The angels sang to the shepherds, "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace amongst people that God favours". This gives four directions: Upwards to God. Downwards to Earth. Eastwards to the people there. Westwards to the people there.

Therefore, your Bethlehem star only needs to have four points. One up. One down. One left. One right. Even a learner-drawer can make this look pretty nifty. Once you get the four points, you can really get carried away with your variations.

Then look more carefully. This is the star for Jesus. The angel told the shepherds that He was born to be our "Saviour". So His star anticipates His cross where He will die to bring forgiveness of sin, life and salvation to us. When you look at the four pointer star, you can also see the sign of the cross hidden within.

So, let us pray in preparation for Christmas:

"Come, long-expected Jesus. Excite in me wonder at the wisdom and power of God.

Come, long-expected Jesus. Excite in me a hunger for peace: peace in the world, peace in my home, peace in myself.

Come, long-expected Jesus. Excite in me a joy responding to the Heavenly Father's joy.

Come, long-expected Jesus. Excite in me joy and love and peace that I may kneel at your Christmas manger with thanksgiving and hope. Amen."

God bless your journey to Christmas.

Pastor Paul Smith

Food for Thought

Why Boredom is Good for Your Child

Boredom is good for children because it encourages them to be creative and develops their imaginations. Bored children are more likely to pick up a book or write a story.

It is also essential for children to have the experience of deciding for themselves how to use periods of unstructured time, or they will never learn to manage it. One of our biggest challenges as adults, and even as teenagers, is learning to manage our time well. The link below has some great ideas to help parents over the school holidays.

Why is unstructured time for children so important?

When children say they are bored, how should we (parents) respond?

What about when kids really do need help coming up with a boredom-busting activity? How can we help . . . while still making them responsible for staying busy / engaged?

Japanese Farewell

As the year comes to an end, so does our time with Kasumi Sensei.

Everyone at Pacific would like to thank the Jessop family, who has so kindly hosted Kasumi. Without host families, our students would not have the same opportunities.

On behalf of the Japanese Department, staff and students, we would like to wish Kasumi well in her future endeavours. We would love to see you back at the college in the future!

Kasumi's message to the college as she says "sayonara" follows:

"I had a fantastic time! I've learnt that if I'm not afraid of making mistakes and trying anything actively, I can make friends with the whole earth! I've really enjoyed studying and chatting with you. Thank you very much for everything. I'll always remember what I've experienced here. I hope we'll get together again very soon!"

Mrs Joanne Bailey, Head of Japanese P-12

The Rite Journey Homecoming

From the Student's Perspective

Rite Journey is a combination of Christian Studies and Personal Development and it has a lot to offer students. With the help of our teachers Mrs McMahon, Miss McMillan, Mr McNee and Dr McMahon, we have had the ability to change and grow, not only in the physical and mental sense but also spiritually. Last Thursday, we celebrated the conclusion of the Rite Journey with the Homecoming Ceremony.

To begin the celebrations, we re-enacted a dance from days gone by. We shared afternoon tea. In this time, we had time to socialise and practise our manners. Although it was hot and the Tim Tams were melting, we all got along well and had a fantastic time. Following this, we shared a couple of dances, The Heel and Toe Polka and a waltz. When we first started to dance two months ago it was extremely funny and awkward but, as we gained confidence, the awkwardness slowly disappeared. We will miss our weekly dance class.

For the formal part of the evening, the parents came along to hear our stories about Rite Journey, from how we felt at the beginning and how we have changed throughout the year, through challenges and discussions. We received our senior blazers from our parents, marking the first time we are seen as senior students (at least by the way we dressed).

It was time to show off our dancing skills. A flurry of flashes went off around the room as parents took far too many photos. Finally the moment was upon us; it was time to dance with our parents. For some of us, this was exciting but for others, other emotions arose. Feet were stepped on but it was a lovely moment to share.

Overall we really enjoyed the night. It was terrific to communicate with those who we have not really spoken to before. It was also emotional as we are realising that we are growing and transforming into young adults. We all left the hall walking tall with our blazers on and everyone's parents beaming with pride.

SOSE News

Year 8 SOSE Students Shore up the Beach

On Saturday, 23rd November Year 8 SOSE students volunteered at the Sunshine Coast Council's Shore up the Beach Day at Maroochydore Beach. With storms and wild weather taking their toll, the Sunshine Coast Council sought volunteers to help plant 10,000 plants to help stabilise the sand dunes. Year 8D students Victoria Barth, Darcy Campbell, Isabelle Dinu, Sophia Rule and Alyssa O'Sullivan answered the call. Over three hours, the students each planted between 80 and 100 plants which will make a significant difference and help ensure the best future for our local beaches.

Music News

Congratulations to the Year 6 Orchestra and Drum-line that displayed excellent group coordination and clarity of note playing in their most recent assembly performance under L Block. They have certainly come the distance this year and now have the opportunity to join the larger ensemble in the new year.

Congratulations also to the array of students who performed in the wind and brass tutors' concert last Wednesday. There were many excellent performances displaying the depth of the learning in these disciplines.

Congratulations to the Year 3 and 4 classes who produced some beautiful music for their final Smart Strings concert for the year. Many parents enjoyed the songs played by the students. We thank the Walkers for their work with these classes this year.

Mr David Simpfendorfer, Head of Music and Mr Adrian King, Head of Instrumental Music

As this is my final newsletter, I would like to thank the parent body for their continued support of the Music Department over the past six years. Pacific will remain as a precious memory with me as I move on in my work.
