

The Scary Rainy day

By Georgia
McFadden

'Woooho! I finally get to go sailing at that beach that has no name,' said the magical wizard.

He was so excited he just went out to his boat the SS Dicky and started getting ready. But when he was about to go he noticed he didn't have a flag.

So he went to Mrs Clares' shop and bought a flag. But when they started sailing after two hours a big storm came. The magical wizard could start to feel rain drops on his body.

The waves were giant and the magical wizard was so scared and suddenly he started to feel dizzy and he could hear the waves crashing like crazy.

Suddenly boom! The magical wizard fainted.

After ten hours the boat crashed on the beach with no name and that evening he awoke and came out. He felt the sand in his toes and could see that the ocean was calm again.

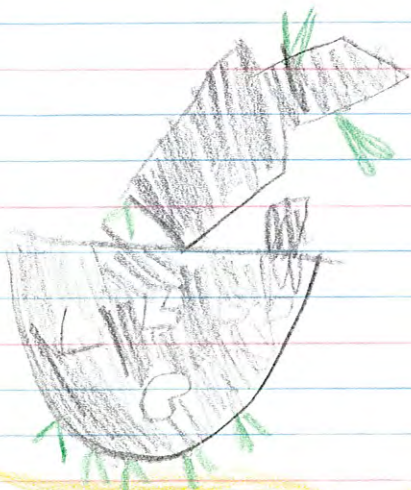

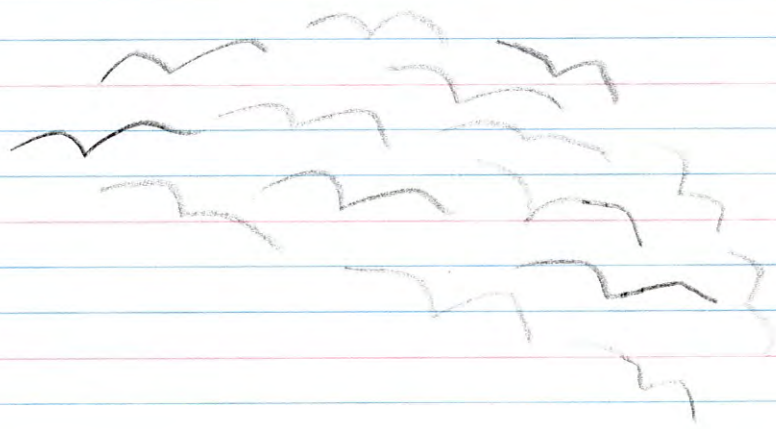

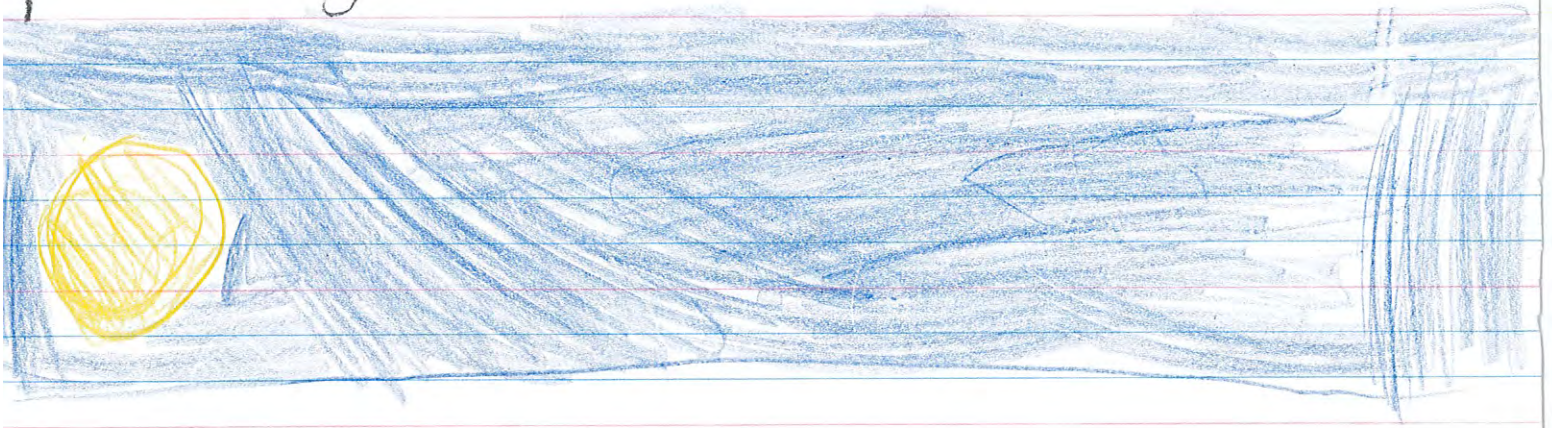

He could smell the fresh air and could see the beach. Soon people knew about it and the next day there was a big ceremony and all the people in town came including the magical wizard.

And that day the mayer presented the no name beach with a name from the marvelous magical mizard who survived thrg h the thrilling storm. The beach was now called Dicky beach from the boats name.

Dicky beach is important because it reminds us the past and of how places get names.

506