

The worst day ever By Billie McKinnon

The Shops

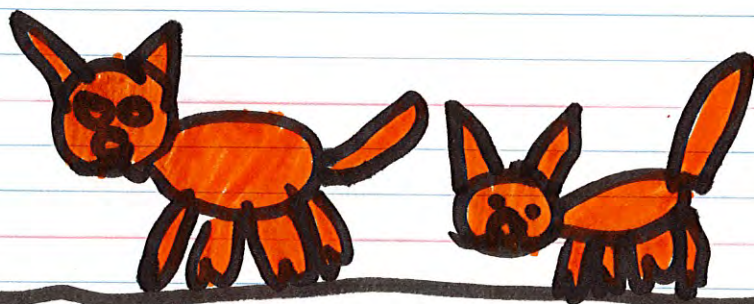

The Worst Day Ever

Has your place ever been ruined? Well that's what happened on Bulcock street.

On this street lived a baby dingo named Emily and a mummy dingo named Rose.

But they were in danger.
This boy named Robert Bulcock moved in and tonight he will start to make a building where they lived!

"Oh no our place is going to be ruined" said Emily.

"The trees are being cut down. Nooooo!" said Rose.

"look out mummy" said Emily.

"That almost hit me" said Rose.

They could smell dirt, they could see people, they could hear rumbling. They touched vehicles, they could taste dirt and they felt sad.

They are safe because Robert decided to build on one side of the street to protect the animals

Now They are safe.
Bulcock street got it's name by that man.

